Gingham Week

—From coast to coast of this great country the large stores in the more important cities are joining with us in exploiting this as

National Gingham Week.

—If ever there was a Fabric of Democracy it is gingham. It can be used to make the most humble but exceedingly necessary kitchen apron, and again the finest qualities are used for the smartest of sport suits for the most fashionable dressers.

—With many countries claiming to have been the land of its nativity, gingham has, naturally, a somewhat romantic history. It was once reserved by royalty, but now that America's democratic citizens dress better than many of royal blood GINGHAM holds front rank as the most serviceable of wash fabrics.

Our Shelves Are Filled to Overflowing

—With this country's finest productions, as well as gingham made by allied nations. —As almost every woman knows, the designs of gingham are woven, not printed, and therefore can only be in designs formed by straight lines such as

Plaids, Checks and Stripes

—Also in plain colors—all of the Dress Ginghams here mentioned are 32 inches wide.

—The colors and color combinations are more artistic, more beautiful than ever before brought out. American manufacturers have determined to show the world that they have no superiors in quality and artistic merit of their fabrics, and the rivalry naturally produces the best results.
